Key Learning

The Five pillars are the foundations of a Muslim's life and teaches them how to lead their lives.

Muslims pray 5 times a day and before they pray they perform a ritual purification called Wudu which consists of washing the face, arms then wiping the head and feet with water.

During Ramadan, Muslims fast and they don't eat or drink from sunrise to sunset. To mark the end of Ramadan, Muslims celebrate Eid.

A mosque is a Muslims place of worship. In the mosque the Imam delivers the sermon and prayer. Inside the mosque there is an Arabic script all over the prayer hall which are the words of Allah. All mosques are built facing Mecca.
